Air Force Finds Missing Capsule From Satellite

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An Air Force search plane Wednesday night spotted the missing capsule of the Discoverer XV satellite.

The capsule had been all but given up for lost when a JC54 plane found it bobbing in the sea near Christmas Island. Booping and flashing, it was about 1,000 miles southwest of the recovery area north of Hawaii where it should have landed.

The Air Force said an amphibious plane will land as soon as there is enough light.

The sea condition is favorable for a landing to pick up the capsule, an official added.

It would be the third straight time the United States has sent a capsule into orbit and recovered it.

The capsule of Discoverer XIV was picked from the air Aug. 19 as it parachuted into the recovery area near the Hawaiian Islands.

Discoverer XIII's capsule slipped past air-catch planes but was pulled from the ocean.

The 300-pound capsule of Discoverer XV had popped loose from its rocket carrier on schedule on the satellite's 17th trip over the Arctic Wednesday afternoon.

But as it parachuted seaward it missed the recovery area where flying boxcars circled, trailing snaring devices.

A radar station at Kaena Point, Oahu, made a fleeting track of the capsule plunging toward the sea.

Discoverer XV was launched Tuesday at Vandenberg Air Force Base into a nearly perfect polar orbit. It carried nothing but instruments, some of them being tested for use in later reconnaissance satellites.

Foreign Language, Fair Pay Scale Are Needed in U. S. State Dept. — Fulbright

ARKANSAS' distinguished Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Senator J. William Fulbright, stopped off in Hope for an informal coffee-hour discussion of world affairs with local men yesterday afternoon.

His host was State Representative Talbot Feild, Jr., at the latter's home, 403 W. Division St. Senator Fulbright and his administrative assistant, Lee Williams, were en route to Little Rock from Texarkana, where they had attended the border city's welcome to Democratic Presidential Nominee John F. Kennedy Tuesday.

"Our country bears two major handicaps in meeting the responsibilities which our world-wide position has thrust upon us," Senator Fulbright said.

"First, too few of the candidates for a career in foreign service know a foreign language. As you well understand, our public schools have practically quit teaching Latin. And there has been a tremendous decline in the teaching of foreign languages. About the turn of this century our public school system offered instruction in at least one foreign language in 70% of its units. Today the percentage has slipped to about 23."

"Just the other day the State Department had a class of 70 candidates for foreign service and my committee called in 10% of them — seven candidates picked by lot — for examination. Only

Charged on Liquor Violations

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A federal grand jury indicted Ernest Woodrow Vaughn, 46, of near Stuttgart on 15 counts of liquor law violations here Wednesday.

The indictment charged that on three occasions since 1955 Vaughn has possessed illegal stills near his home in the Lodges Corner area.

Seven of the counts charge him with possessing and transporting a total of 325 gallons of untaxed liquor.

Links Peale to Anti-Catholic Mail Drive

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson, Democratic national chairman, says someone is flooding the mails with anti-Catholic literature in an attempt to defeat John F. Kennedy for president.

Former President Harry S. Truman also brought up the subject while taking a morning stroll Wednesday in New York. "In my home town," Truman remarked, "the Republicans are sending out all the dirty pamphlets they can find on religion."

That brought emphatic denials from the former GOP national chairman, Mende A. Leorn, and from Ed Stollenwerk, Republican chairman of Truman's own Jackson County, Mo. They said Republican organizations have no part in any hate-mail campaign.

Jackson said that as far as he knows the mail has not come from any Republican party official, but he urged newsmen to track down the source of the anti-Catholic mail.

He wouldn't say what information he has on any source, but told a news conference: "I'll give you a little clue. You might ask Dr. Peale who prepared his statement."

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, New York minister and author of inspirational books, led a group of 160 Protestant ministers and laymen who met here a week ago and issued a statement. It said any Roman Catholic president (Kennedy is a Catholic) would be under pressure from the church separation of church and state.

The statement was issued as a collective one by the group, which called itself the National Conference of Citizens for Religious Freedom.

Peale later backed off a little. He said public agitation over the religious issue would harm the nation and that therefore he would take no active part in the political campaign.

Jackson said Peale was a Republican and a friend of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Kennedy's Republican opponent. He said, "I think Dr. Peale has a deep responsibility as a matter of conscience to tell the truth" about the authorship of the group's statement.

Peale was not available for comment on Jackson's statement.

The small girl in a Hope elementary school felt ill and her teacher drove her home during the noon recess.

"You'll know our place," said the child, "because the yard is full of dogs."

"He is not," replied the little girl. "He's 40, and my ma is 35."

Congo Soldiers Try to Lynch Lumumba

By LYNN HEINZLERING

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Congo soldiers tried to lynch Patrice Lumumba today.

They broke into a U.N. troop building and tried to seize the dispirited premier. Ghana troops of the U.N. Command succeeded in pushing the Congolese troops from the building.

"It was a close shave," one officer of the Ghana force said. "The unruly Congo soldiers were roused to fever pitch by reports of numerous casualties among their families in Kasai Province, where troops loyal to Lumumba have been fighting against Baluba tribesmen. The United Nations announced a truce last Saturday in the bloody civil war."

Many of the Congolese soldiers in Camp Leopold II here are Balubas.

Today's clash occurred at the officers mess of the Ghana forces at the camp.

Lumumba lost his grip on his supporters and dramatically appealed for U.N. military protection.

With street demonstrators shouting "Down with Lumumba, the Communist," Lumumba tried desperately to rally the Congolese soldiers in the camp against the military coup by pro-Western Col. Joseph Mobutu.

But for once he failed to swing the soldiers back to his side in the secession struggle with President Joseph Kasavubu for power.

A U.N. spokesman said Lumumba was given hospitality in the officers mess of the Ghana brigade, but is free to leave there if he wishes to do so.

It was a tragicomic reversal of fortunes for Lumumba, who repeatedly tried to have U.N. forces expelled from the country while he held undisputed power.

Mobutu and the forces loyal to President Kasavubu thus clearly held the upper hand at the end of a chaotic 24 hours of coup and counter-coup in which no one in the capital could say for sure which side was winning.

Mobutu, coming forward as an army strongman, announced Wednesday night that the army was "neutralizing" both Lumumba and President Joseph Kasavubu, the contestants in the Congo's own cold war for power, and that the Soviets and other Communists were being given 48 hours to get out of the country.

But Lumumba's spokesman, Serge Michel, a twirling French expatriate, announced today that Lumumba was still in power.

"The prime minister is having a working session," he said. "Col. Mobutu is out of harm's way. He has been arrested."

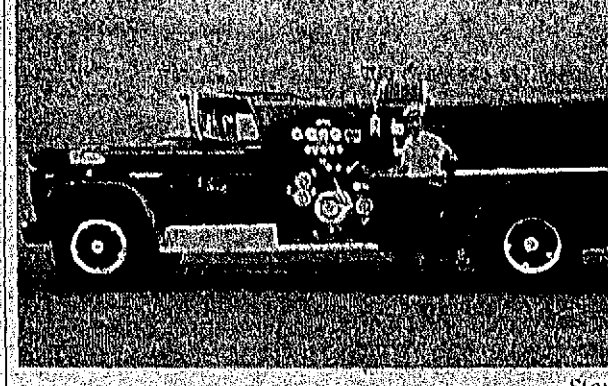

No one in the Congolese capital was surprised by the announcement of what appeared to be the second coup in 12 hours—with possibly others being prepared.

Crowds of President Kasavubu's Abako party supporters were still marching through the city, joyful over Mobutu's coup and chanting.

Officers Tell of War Plot by E. Germans

BONN, Germany (AP)—An East German army officer who fled to the West said today a war of conquest is being planned by the Communists against West Germany.

Capt. Guenther Malikowski showed a news conference documents he said disclosed that the East German army is being drilled for attack.

Malikowski said he had been an official in the political training unit of the army. It was his job, he said, to supervise the re-education of his division as part of an all-out war against the West.

Among the documents that he brought along were leaflets and posters, all marked confidential, earmarked for distribution right after the Communists had marched into West Germany.

One poster, a "Notice to the population," admonished the people to cease all resistance and remain quiet.

"The war will be over for you in a few days," the poster said. Werner Krueger, deputy government press chief who introduced Malikowski to the press, said there could be no doubt about the truth of what he said and of the authenticity of the documents.

Warm Welcome

HONG KONG (AP)—Communist China has accorded the warmest welcome ever given a foreign dignitary to President Sekou Toure of Guinea. The Sept. 11 issue of the People's Daily, just reaching here, devoted six of its eight pages to Toure's visit. This was more attention than Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev got.

U. S. Charges Soviets Want Hold on Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States asserted today the Soviet Union is carrying on a smear campaign against the United Nations in an effort to hide a plot to turn the Congo into a Soviet satellite.

U.S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth spoke before the Security Council, where he introduced a resolution pledging full U.S. support to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold in his fight with the Russians.

The U.S. resolution also called for a halt to the shipment of all arms, personnel and military supplies to the troubled African country by anyone except the United Nations.

The Soviet Union had charged previously council resolutions asking U.N. members to refrain from such actions.

Wadsworth addressed the 11-nation Security Council in the midst of a major crisis caused by a stunning Soviet attack on Hammarskjold as the alleged willing tool of the Western powers.

Wadsworth accused the Soviet Union of trying to subvert U.N. operations in the Congo "under a smoke screen of voting for the Security Council resolutions."

"In recent days," he said, "the pattern has become increasingly clear. By shattering the Secretary-General, the United Nations Committee and even some of the countries contributing troops, the Soviet Union had tried to cover up its penetration."

He accused the Soviet Union of "deceit and fraud."

Wadsworth asserted that at the very moment when the Soviet Union was supporting U.N. resolutions, it began "to introduce a stream of material and personnel into the Congo, not to assist but to disrupt the action of the United Nations and to develop Soviet influence, with a view to establishing a Soviet satellite state in the heart of Africa."

"United States policy in the Congo is simple. We support the United Nations wholeheartedly. We consider it the only satisfactory alternative to chaos, war and intervention," he said.

Judge Denies an Appeal by Leggett

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U. S. District Judge J. Smith Henley today rejected the latest move to save the life of Emmett Earl Leggett, a 23-year-old slayer who has had 11 stays of execution in a four-year battle to escape the electric chair.

Leggett is scheduled to die in a double execution at Tucker State Prison Farm at dawn tomorrow. The other condemned man is William Frank Nail, 27, convicted in the 1958 slaying of a fellow inmate at the prison.

Kenneth Coffelt, Leggett's attorney, said he would fly to St. Louis today to appeal Henley's ruling to the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Coffelt made two main allegations in a petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed with Henley yesterday. He claimed Leggett's trial jury was improperly seated and that Leggett is now insane and cannot be executed under Arkansas law.

Henley denied the petition in a 10-page memorandum opinion filed this morning.

Leggett first entered death row in July, 1956, as a 19-year-old. He was convicted in the December, 1955, slaying of Joe King, 14, of Jacksonville.

Leggett was arrested for rape about one month after the King boy's body was found in a thicket. While officers were questioning him about an attack on two Jacksonville sisters, he confessed the King murder.

Life Is Full of Trips to Corner Store

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It was Saturday afternoon and Wilbur Peck, America's most average man, wanted a can of beer.

But, as always seemed to happen, he couldn't find a can opener.

"Why don't you go to the store and get one?" suggested Trellis Mae, America's most typical wife.

"I'm tired of making unnecessary trips to the store," stormed Wilbur. "My married life has been one long emergency."

"You never keep enough of anything in this house. We're always running out of everything—just when we need it. Whatever I want, no matter what it is, we're fresh out of it," he complained.

"Well, I tell you, I'm sick and tired of living this way. What we need in this house is a little planning—then we won't have these shortages. I'm going to solve this problem once and for all!"

Wilbur clapped on his hat and left. He banged the front door so loudly the startled cat leaped to the top of an armchair in nervous alarm. But Trellis Mae merely shrugged and went back to making the Afghan she had been working on intermittently since 1949.

An hour after that the delivery boys began arriving, and they came in a steady stream for the next two hours.

They brought a case of soap and a case of detergents.

They brought four dozen eggs and 90 electric light bulbs of assorted sizes.

They brought a case containing 1,000 rolls of toilet paper.

They brought three boxes of nails, 144 pairs of shoelaces, 12 flashlights, five dozen candles, and six bottles each containing 1,000 aspirin tablets.

They brought a dozen cans of talcum powder, 15 packages of adhesive bandages, 50 packets of razor blades, 24 bottles of shaving lotion, 24 cans of push-button shaving cream, 18 tooth brushes and 48 tubes of tooth paste.

They brought 20 cartons of cigarettes, 200 packets of matches and six cases of beer.

They brought three cases of cat food, a case of canned chift, a case of assorted soups, two cases of peanut butter, a case of bottled olives, a case of mustard, five cases of catsup and three cases of of sardines and anchovies. They brought 20 pounds of cheese and 10 pounds of sliced ham.

Trellis Mae had had the boys stack all the purchases in a towering pile in the center of the living room. Soon after Wilbur entered, looking somewhat wilted from his long shopping orgy.

A moment later he said, "I'm hungry, honey. Can you rustle me up a ham and cheese sandwich?"

Trellis Mae went into the kitchen. There was a silence. Then she called:

"Wilbur, do you mind making just one more trip to the grocery store? You forgot the bread. There isn't a slice left in the house."

Tells About His Brother Held by Reds

Last March, the Peoples Republic of China announced that my brother, Bishop James Edward Walsh, had been tried and convicted of espionage as a veteran American spy and sentenced to 20 years imprisonment.

My brother, who spent most of his life in missionary work in China, is 69. I had learned that relatives of four other Americans imprisoned in China had been per-milled to see them, and so I, likewise applied to Chinese authorities.

In July I received a cable from the Chinese Red Cross, stating that I would be allowed to spend 14 days in China for the purpose of visiting my brother.

My wife and I arrived in Hong Kong July 28. That afternoon as previously instructed, I go to the China Travel Service, which with the China Travel Service, I turned over my passport to them, and three days later I was advised that the necessary visa had been received.

I was authorized to enter China Aug. 1. At 10:30 that morning the British Red Cross representative, Miss Robin Hurst, called for me at the hotel. I drove with Miss Hurst, Mr. Joseph Carniglia of the American Red Cross, and Father Michael J. McKiernan, head of the Maryknoll Fathers in Hong Kong, to the border at Shumchun.

Shortly afterwards I crossed the frontier to the Chinese mainland. My passport and visa were inspected. I went through customs with my baggage, and I filled out an entry form and currency declaration. After completion of the formalities and lunch at the station, I took the train for Canton.

On the train ride to Canton, I was accompanied by a Chinese Red Cross representative, a Mr.

Wong. He is the official who receives the Red Cross packages sent in every month for American prisoners in China.

At Canton, we were met by another Chinese Red Cross representative, and the two men took me to the Hotel Aichun, where I received a good room, had dinner and went to bed after calling Mrs. Walsh in Hong Kong to inform her of my arrival in Canton.

I got up at 5:30 next morning to catch a 7 a.m. plane for Shanghai. After 2 1/2 hours of flight, it landed at Nanchang, and I was told we might be delayed because the flight was canceled, and I was taken to a hotel in Nanchang along with two Chinese passengers.

The next morning, the hotel manager accompanied me to the airport, about 20 miles from the city. There was still uncertainty about the weather at Shanghai, and takeoff was delayed until noon. The hotel manager, a very nice chap, stayed with me until the plane left.

Alford Likely to Face Stickers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Republican running as an independent can use pasten stickers against Rep. Dale Alford, who was elected two years ago through a similar device.

The attorney general's office held Monday that an opinion which permitted Alford to use stickers still is valid.

Lonzo A. Ross of Conway, fifth Congressional District GOP chairman, asked if L. J. Churchill of Dover could use stickers as an independent in the Nov. 8 general election.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett ruled last Friday that Churchill's name could not appear on the ballot because he had not been nominated in a primary election. Republicans have said a court ruling might be sought if he is denied certification as a candidate.

Air Force Finds Missing Capsule From Satellite

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An Air Force search plane Wednesday night spotted the missing capsule of the Discoverer XV satellite.

The capsule had been all but given up for lost when a KC-94 plane found it bobbing in the sea near Christmas Island. Beeping and flashing, it was about 1,000 miles southwest of the recovery area north of Hawaii where it should have landed.

The Air Force said an amphibious plane will land as soon as there is enough light.

"The sea condition is favorable for a landing to pick up the capsule," an official added.

It would be the third straight time the United States has sent a capsule into orbit and recovered it.

The capsule of Discoverer XIV was plucked from the air Aug. 19 as it parachuted into the recovery area near the Hawaiian Islands.

Discoverer XIII's capsule slipped past air-catch planes but was pulled from the ocean.

The 300-pound capsule of Discoverer XV had popped loose from its rocket carrier on schedule on the satellite's 17th trip over the Arctic Wednesday afternoon.

But as it parachuted seaward it missed the recovery area where flying boxcars circled, trailing snatching devices.

A radar station at Kaena Point, Oahu, made a floating track of the capsule plunging toward the sea.

Discoverer XV was launched Tuesday at Vandenberg Air Force Base into a nearly perfect polar orbit. It carried nothing but instruments, some of them being tested for use in later reconnaissance satellites.

Foreign Language, Fair Pay Scale Are Needed in U. S. State Dept. — Fulbright

Arkansas' distinguished chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Senator J. William Fulbright, stopped off in Hope for an informal coffee-hour discussion of world affairs with local men yesterday afternoon.

His host was State Representative Talbot Feild, Jr., at the latter's home, 403 W. Division St. Senator Fulbright and his administrative assistant, Lee Williams, were en route to Little Rock from Texarkana, where they had attended the border city's welcome to Democratic Presidential Nominee John F. Kennedy Tuesday.

"Our country bears two major handicaps in meeting the responsibilities which our world-wide position has thrust upon us," Senator Fulbright said.

"First, too few of the candidates for a career in foreign service know a foreign language. As you well understand, our public schools have practically quit teaching Latin. And there has been a tremendous decline in the teaching of foreign languages. About the turn of this century our public school system offered instruction in at least one foreign language in 70% of its units. Today the percentage has slipped to about 23.

"Just the other day the State Department had a class of 70 candidates for foreign service and my committee called in 10% of them — seven candidates picked by lot — for examination. Only

Charged on Liquor Violations

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A federal grand jury indicted Ernest Woodrow Vaughn, 46, of near Stuttgart, on 15 counts of liquor law violations here Wednesday.

The indictment charged that on three occasions since 1955 Vaughn has possessed illegal stills near his home in the Ledges Corner area.

Seven of the counts charge him with possessing and transporting a total of 325 gallons of untaxed liquor.

Links Peale to Anti-Catholic Mail Drive

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson, Democratic national chairman, says someone is flooding the mails with anti-Catholic literature in an attempt to defeat John F. Kennedy for president.

Former President Harry S. Truman also brought up the subject while taking a morning stroll Wednesday in New York. "In my home town," Truman remarked, "the Republicans are sending out all the dirty pamphlets they can find on religion."

That brought emphatic denials from the former GOP national chairman, Menckle A. Corn and from Ed Stallenwerck, Republican chairman of Truman's own Jackson County, Mo. They said Republican organizations have no part in any hate-mail campaign.

Jackson said that as far as he knows the mail has not come from any Republican party official, but he urged newsmen to track down the source of the anti-Catholic mail.

He wouldn't say what information he has on any source, but told a news conference: "I'll give you a little clue. You might ask Dr. Peale who prepared his statement."

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, New York minister and author of inspirational books, led a group of 150 Protestant ministers and laymen who met here a week ago and issued a statement. It said any Roman Catholic president (Kennedy is a Catholic) would be under pressure from the church to separate church and state.

The statement was issued as a collective one by the group, which called itself the National Conference of Citizens for Religious Freedom.

Peale later backed off a little. He said public agitation over the religious issue would harm the nation and that therefore he would take no active part in the political campaign.

Jackson said Peale was a Republican and a friend of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Kennedy's Republican opponent. He said, "I think Dr. Peale has a deep responsibility as a minister of conscience to tell the truth" about the authorship of the group's statement.

Peale was not available for comment on Jackson's statement.

Grandmother Charged With Murder

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. Curry Talley, 66, remained in jail here today, charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of her granddaughter Tuesday night.

No date was set for arraignment after the charge was filed Wednesday.

Mrs. Talley said she fired a pistol intending to frighten the girl, 17-year-old Carolyn Talley, but did not mean to kill her. The girl died of a bullet wound in the head.

The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. Estelle Terry, where Mrs. Talley was babysitting. The girl was standing outside a locked screen door at the time.

Mrs. Talley said that Mrs. Terry had told Carolyn and her mother to stay away from the house, but that the girl threatened to force her way in.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Mary Talley, was in a nearby parked automobile at the time.

Mrs. Talley said that the girl's parents are estranged and had been having serious domestic difficulties.

Mrs. Talley's son, owner of the pistol, is a member of the Hot Springs Police Department but currently is on sick leave with a broken arm.

Congo Soldiers Try to Lynch Lumumba

By LYNN HEINZERLING

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Congo soldiers tried to lynch Patrice Lumumba today.

They broke into a U.N. troop building and tried to seize the disgraced premier. Ghana troops of the U.N. Command succeeded in pushing the Congolese troops from the building.

"It was a close shave," one officer of the Ghana force said.

The unruly Congo soldiers were roused to fever pitch by reports of numerous casualties among their families in Kasai Province, where troops loyal to Lumumba have been fighting against Baluba tribesmen. The United Nations announced a truce last Saturday in the bloody civil war.

Many of the Congolese soldiers in Camp Leopold II here are Balubas.

Today's clash occurred at the officers mess of the Ghana forces at the camp.

Lumumba lost his grip on his supporters and dramatically appealed for U.N. military protection.

With street demonstrators shouting "Down with Lumumba, the Communist," Lumumba tried desperately to rally the Congolese soldiers in the camp against the military coup by pro-Western Col. Joseph Mobutu.

But for once he failed to swing the soldiers back to his side in the seaway struggle with President Joseph Kasavubu for power.

A U.N. spokesman said Lumumba was given hospitality in the officers mess of the Ghana brigade, but is free to leave there if he wishes to do so.

It was a tragicomic reversal of fortunes for Lumumba, who repeatedly tried to have U.N. forces expelled from the country while he held undisputed power.

Mobutu and the forces loyal to President Kasavubu thus clearly held the upper hand at the end of a chaotic 24 hours of coup and counter-coup in which no one in the capital could say for sure which side was winning.

Mobutu, coming forward as an army strongman, announced Wednesday night that the army was "neutralizing" both Lumumba and President Joseph Kasavubu, the contestants in the Congo's own civil war for power, and that the Soviets and other Communists were being given 48 hours to get out of the country.

But Lumumba's spokesman, Serge Michel, a leftwing French expatriate, announced today that Lumumba was still in power.

"The prime minister is having a working session," he said. "Col. Mobutu is out of harm's way. He has been arrested."

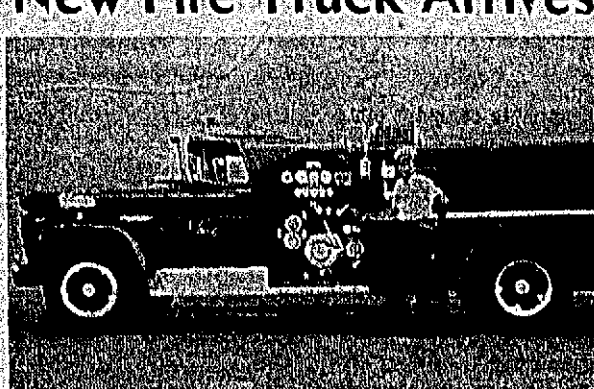

No one in the Congolese capital was surprised by the announcement of what appeared to be the second coup in 12 hours—with possibly others being prepared.

Crowds of President Kasavubu's Alako party supporters were still marching through the city, joyful over Mobutu's coup and changing

Officers Tell of War Plot by E. Germans

BONN, Germany (AP)—An East German army officer who fled to the West said today a war of conquest is being planned by the Communists against West Germany.

Capt. Guenther Malikowski showed a news conference documents he said disclosed that the East German army is being drilled for attack.

Malikowski said he had been an official in the political training unit of the army. It was his job, he said, to supervise the re-education of his division as part of an all-out war against the West.

Among the documents that he brought along were leaflets and posters, all marked confidential, earmarked for distribution right after the Communists had marched into West Germany.

One poster, a "Notice to the population," admonished the people to cease all resistance and remain quiet.

"The war will be over for you in a few days," the poster said. Werner Krueger, deputy government press chief who introduced Malikowski to the press, said there could be no doubt about the truth of what he said and of the authenticity of the documents.

Warm Welcome

HONG KONG (AP)—Communist China has accorded the warmest welcome ever given a foreign dignitary to President Sekou Toure of Guinea. The Sept. 11 issue of the People's Daily, its leading paper, devoted six of its eight pages to Toure's visit. This was more attention than Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev got.

Supper was served shortly before the wagons arrived to take the group home. One wagon driven by Mr. Ed Dalton lost a front wheel, frightening the horses. Some of the occupants in the runaway wagon were thrown out. But another driver managed to bring the animals under control and the party arrived home safely with only a few bruises and cuts.

Mr. Dalton and two ladies were slightly injured. (Editor's Note: Mrs. Johnson, 91, now makes her home with Mrs. G. C. Transier at 6021 Dakota, Tampa, Fla. She was one of the first members of the Hope WOW Circle and helped organize the Melrose group. She started the Catholic ladies Altar Society here. The picnic, so Mrs. Transier informs us, was out on the Spring Hill road on the old Gibson farm.

Hope Firemen kept a truck and man on the Stroud farm near Washington all afternoon yesterday to help control a woods and meadow fire.

Efforts of the department and helpers kept the blaze from crossing the railway tracks to the Proving Ground.

Castro Blasts Both United States, UN

HAVANA (AP)—Both the United States and the United Nations were blasted today by Revolution for the Washington orders restricting Prime Minister Fidel Castro and three Communist leaders to Manhattan Island when they attend the U. N. General Assembly next week.

Revolution, the Castro-controlled newspaper, said excessive precautions have been out lined in New York because of "a desire to limit the public's knowledge."

Revolution also decried as illegal maneuvering a proposed search of the Bahama when it gets to New York with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The paper said the FBI wants to check the vessel.

On the home front here, the newspaper information disclosed that a Cuban lieutenant was killed, apparently in a clash with insurgent forces in the Escambray hills of Las Villas Province.

Information mentioned no other casualties, but travelers were brought to a sanatorium in the Escambray hills.

The lieutenant's death was reported by neither Revolution nor El Mundo, both government-controlled publications.

The newspapers reported that Latin Americans in New York, Texas, New Mexico and California look upon Castro as "the leader of their aspirations."

They gave that as the reason for U. S. State Department travel restrictions on Castro's visit.

Judge Denies an Appeal by Leggett

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U. S. District Judge J. Smith Henley today rejected the latest move to save the life of Emmett Earl Leggett, a 23-year-old slayer who has had 11 stays of execution in a four-year battle to escape the electric chair.

Leggett is scheduled to die in a double execution at Tucker State Prison Farm at dawn tomorrow. The other condemned man is William Frank Nail, 27, convicted in the 1958 slaying of a fellow inmate at the prison.

Kenneth Coffelt, Leggett's attorney, said he would fly to St. Louis today to appeal Henley's ruling to the Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Coffelt made two main allegations in a petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed with Henley yesterday. He claimed Leggett's trial jury was improperly seated and that Leggett is now insane and cannot be executed under Arkansas law.

Henley denied the petition in a 10-page memorandum opinion filed this morning.

Leggett first entered death row in July, 1956, as a 19-year-old. He was convicted in the December, 1955, slaying of Joe King, 14, of Jacksonville.

Leggett was arrested for rape about one month after the King boy's body was found in a thicket. While officers were questioning him about an attack on two Jacksonville sisters, he confessed the King murder.

In an unusual, etc., picking up third graf L.H., and eliminating next to last graf: Leggett was... on 1955."

Yerger Hosts Pine Bluff on Saturday

Saturday night the Tigers will play host to the Merrill High Tigers of Pine Bluff in its second Big Nine tilt.

Yerger won over Merrill last year 25-6. However, coach Phillips of Pine Bluff is expected to be ready this year since they ended the season strong last year. The Pine Bluffians defeated Marshall last week 22-0.

Yerger won its opener last Saturday night against Lincoln of Camden 6-2. Coaches McQuerry and Smith are running the team through various pass patterns and pass defenses in preparation for the Saturday night tilt which is expected to be filled with passes.

into foreign service should feel "dedicated." They, like school teachers and other career people, have to live. By comparison, the military offers a far superior program for its people on both pay and retirement benefits.

Replying to a question by Alex. H. Washburn, editor of The Star, asking the senator to compare our foreign service with that of Great Britain, whose former world position America has now assumed, Fulbright said:

"The British over hundreds of years built up a foreign service of career men dedicated to a more or less continuous policy program. But America has barely begun to attract top-flight people to foreign work. And we have to operate on a year-to-year basis where policy is concerned. Every time we try to set up a long-range program, making commitments for, say, as much as five years, we are cut down in the Congress.

"Not alone are the undeveloped people confused—we hear from our own allies. We never know what to expect of American foreign policy. Obviously we need a long-range program that our allies and the rest of the world can depend upon."

Answering a question from Vincent Foster regarding the status of the Millwood Dam project on Little River, Senator Fulbright said:

"The first $500,000 of construction money has cleared Congress and the White House, and the project now appears definitely on the road to completion. The overall program of river development has been worked out between Arkansas and Oklahoma, and controversy is finally at an end."

Those present with Senator Fulbright and Mr. Williams yesterday were:

for Lumumba's death. Immediately after Michel's announcement of Mobutu's arrest, the Senate met for an emergency session that was four short of a quorum.

Earlier Mobutu had told news men that Lumumba was at Camp Leopold II. The main army camp at Leopoldville. This was taken to mean that he was in custody, but life-wily premier may have been busy winning his jailers over as he did once before when he was arrested on Kasavubu's orders.

In the fast-changing situation, steel-helmeted U.N. soldiers dispersed troops of Congolese in the European quarters. U.N. Ghana troops waited behind machine guns.

Mobutu, 30, was named army chief of staff only Wednesday by Kasavubu. He had told news men that the embassies of the Soviet Union and her satellites were being shut down and the Red diplomats expelled.

He told a news conference the army was taking over rule in the strife-torn young African republic until some solution is reached in the deadlocked power struggle between Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Hall Refuses to Certify Churchill

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Secretary of State C. G. Hall today refused to accept the name of L. J. Churchill for certification to the general election ballot as Republican nominee for Fifth District congressman.

Patric Rammel of Little Rock and Lonza Ross of Conway, Republican leaders who offered the nomination, said Hall's decision would be appealed to the courts. The refusal today was a formal, Hall announced last week he would take such action after Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett ruled that Churchill was not legally nominated.

Arkansas law requires that party candidates be nominated in primary elections. Churchill was nominated by the Republican Committee and the Fifth District convention.

Rammel and Ross indicated Churchill will run as a write-in candidate if legal efforts to get his name on the ballot are unsuccessful. He would oppose Rep. Dale Alford, the Democratic nominee, who himself won his office as a write-in candidate in 1958.

is expected to be his only Arkansas campaign appearance.

Ralph W. Sloan, Crittenden County Republican chairman, said Wednesday he was notified of the visit in a letter from Fred J. Venable of Little Rock, Nixon-Lodge campaign chairman in Arkansas. Nixon's stop here will follow an earlier appearance in Memphis.

U. S. Charges

than any ever made by a big power against a U.N. secretary general, came Wednesday night from Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin, newly arrived from Moscow. It reflected the intensity of the Soviet interest in the outcome of the power struggle in the new African country.

Zorin's blistering 74-minute speech against Hammarskjold was delivered after the Security Council failed to grant a Soviet bloc demand that a delegation representing leftist Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba take part in the debate. Only the Soviet Union, Poland and Ceylon voted for a motion to seat Lumumba's delegation, while the other eight council members abstained.

No action was taken on the admission of a rival delegation representing Congo President Joseph Kasavubu.

Zorin accused Hammarskjold of being a tool of Western imperialists, of conspiring with the NATO powers to undermine Lumumba and of trying to reimpose colonialism under the blue and white banners of the United Nations.

Chief U. S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth, in a statement outside the council, called the Soviet accusations "arrogant and hypocritical." He planned to throw his full support behind Hammarskjold during today's debate.

He and other council members also were working on a resolution which in effect would be an endorsement of the secretary general's Congo program.

Obviously perturbed, Hammarskjold himself took the floor briefly and answered some of the detailed charges leveled at him by

Fancy Phones Available Here Now

The first Princess telephone in Hope has been installed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Erwin, 215 N. Louisiana. The Princess set was developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories and features an entirely new concept in telephone design, according to P. J. Poe, manager of Southwestern Bell in Arkansas.

Poe said that the introduction of the Princess phone here had been delayed until an adequate supply was on hand to make them available immediately to everyone who wants them.

Hope's first Princess phone was installed in the bedroom of the Erwin home. Mrs. Erwin chose a beige set from among the five colors available.

The installation was made by E. D. Goodner.

Father Won't Face Reality!

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I am 28 years old, have two wonderful children and no husband. The father of my children is unmarried. I love him very much. He has been going with a married woman and now has a child by her. He tells me he is sorry and wants to make up. He still sees her but pretends to be looking out for the child. I feel if he would lie once, he would lie again. Should I continue our relationship for the children's sake, or should I break off and try to make a life for me and them alone? —Unhappy

Dear Unhappy: If, as you say, you love this man and he you, the answer would normally be marriage, but how about the other girl and her baby?

Shell Kills Nine

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Nine Korean boys, ages 7 to 13, were killed near Taegu when a shell, presumably left over from the Korean War, exploded, national police reported today.

He's less than a man if he side-steps responsibilities of his own thinking. Does he support the children? If not, he should be taken to law. As to his lying, if he could once clean up his messy way of life, the reform would probably be general.

Dear Helen:

We have been married 14 years and have four lovely children whom I love very much. We managed to save enough money for a down payment on our own home. Everything went along fine for the first year, then trouble started. My wife met a young man at a bingo game and sees him every time she goes out. When I speak about it, she cries, saying I have a rotten mind. I don't want to break my home up on account of the children. What can I do? —Chuck

Dear Chuck: Have a heart-to-heart talk with your wife. Remind her marriage is a partnership. If that partnership is to work, she must play fair. Two-timing on either side niggers all for all concerned, including the children. Say this in all kindness. Be firm but not preachy. In justice to your wife, you may have been lacking in thoughtfulness. Bring her a gift or two. Buy her a new dress. Take her out to dine or dance. Show her that you love her. It takes two to make a happy marriage.

Memo to "Confused and Worried Mothers": The father should be told. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for further advice.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper. If all letters available. Write for "Dix's Mail Bag."

An Unknown Fights Hank to a Draw

CHICAGO (AP) - Hammering Henry Hank, Detroit slugger who has been angling for a crack at the middleweight crown, had a new ambition today - a rematch with hitherto unknown Jesse Smith of Chicago.

Smith, unranked among the middleweights, mixed a blistering attack with skillful defense Wednesday night and held Hank to a draw in a 10-round nationally televised bout at the Chicago Stadium.

Smith, unawed by Hank's impressive knockout record, would have scored a big upset if he hadn't been tagged with a whistling left uppercut midway in the final round that dropped him for the nine count.

He struggled to his feet, and stuck out his tongue at Hank in a show of heroics, but a chopping overhead right had him sliding along the ropes when the final bell sounded.

Smith slipped most of Hank's heavy artillery and countered effectively, until he was tagged in the tenth. He had Hank in trouble momentarily in the third with a left-right combination and again in the sixth round, after successfully absorbing some stiff shots from the Detroit belter. Referee Frank Sikora had Hank ahead 46-44 under the 5 points-a-round mass system, while Judge Frank McAdams awarded the bout to Smith, 47-45. Judge William Doly marked both fighters even, 46-46. The Associated Press had Smith ahead 47-45.

The Porskers concluded a heavy drills Wednesday with a practice Coach Frank Brouley called the best of the fall. They have a brief running session today and will loosen up Friday in Hot Springs, moving on to Little Rock shortly before time for Saturday night's game with Oklahoma State.

The T-team gave the Hogs a taste of Cowboy offenses and defenses Wednesday and Brouley worked hard on punt coverage and punt returns, stressing that State's Gary Cutsinger is a fine kicker. There were no lineup changes. Darrell Williams still is ahead of twin brother Jarrell at right half-back and Jimmy Collier still gets the nod at left end over Les Leisinger.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Survey funds appropriated by Congress have been allocated by U. S. Engineers to several Arkansas flood control studies.

The allocations include: Bayou Bartholomew, $28,600; Hardin Drain, Pine Bluff, $10,000; Lee Creek, Arkansas and Oklahoma, $3,500; Petit Jean River, $23,000; Red River, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, $25,000.

Bums Make Other Teams Take Notice

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those world champion Los Angeles Dodgers may be lost, but they're not forgotten—not when they keep bobbing up to harass the leaders in what still could become a race for the National League pennant.

After taking two of three from third-place Milwaukee last weekend, the Dodgers tagged the first-place Pittsburgh with a second straight loss 5-2 Wednesday night. The Pirates lead to 5½ games by beating Vern Law for the first time this season.

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals gained on the Bucs with their eighth victory in 10 games, beating Cincinnati 6-4. The Braves topped the Chicago Cubs 10-2 and now trail by 6½ games.

Philadelphia whipped the San Francisco Giants 4-1.

In the American League, Baltimore defeated Detroit 11-10 and climbed within one percentage point of the first place New York Yankees, who lost 2-1 at Kansas City. Chicago's third-place White Sox still trail by two after a 6-1 loss to Washington. Cleveland beat Boston 11-7.

The fourth-place Dodgers, nine games behind and all but officially out of the race, handed Law his third straight defeat in a bid for his 20th victory. Wally Moon drove in three runs, bringing in

Youth Killed by an Auto

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Eight-year-old Louis Allen Tolbert was struck and killed by an automobile as he ran to catch a school bus here today.

The boy ran across a line of traffic and was struck by a car traveling in the opposite direction, officers were told.

A sister was with the boy. She was not struck.

The car driver, George R. Isom, said he didn't see the boy until it was too late to stop.

The child was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Franklin Tolbert.

The clincher with a two-run double in the fifth against the Pirates' right-handed ace, who had a 5-0 record over Los Angeles, Stan Williams (14-8) was the winner, checking the Pirates' on seven hits and fanning 13 as Pittsburgh set a NL record with 20 strikeouts in two games.

Daryl Spencer socked a two-run homer in the eighth inning that tied it for St. Louis. Rookie Bob Miller (3-1) was the winner. Jay Hook (10-17) was the loser.

Ed Mathews hit his 37th home run in a two-run first inning for Milwaukee, and Hank Aaron then hit a three-run triple as the Braves scored four in the second against loser Don Cardwell (7-14).

Winner Joey Jay (8-7) gained his second complete game of the year with a six-hit performance.

Robin Roberts (10-15) beat the Giants by allowing only five singles. He retired 19 in a row and had a three-hit shutout with one out in the ninth. Billy O'Dell (7-12) was the loser.

Fire Destroys Supermarket

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A fire which smoldered in an attic for about an hour before bursting through the roof destroyed a supermarket Tuesday night. Loss was figured at $200,000.

Officials said the Safeway store and its stock were valued at $200,000. Fire Chief Gann Nalley said it was a total loss.

Patrolman Harold J. Jones Jr. discovered the fire. Firemen were unable to reach the flames directly until they broke through the roof. Before the fire was controlled, only the brick walls were left standing.

The flames, visible for miles, attracted a crowd estimated by police at 2,500 to 3,000 persons.

Cause of the fire was not determined. Officials said the store had closed an hour early Tuesday night because of electrical troubles.

Man Killed in W. Memphis Wreck

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — Claude Alexander, 46, of Little Rock was killed instantly early today when his car and a tractor-trailer truck collided head-on about 15 miles west of here on U.S. Highway 70.

State Police said Alexander apparently lost control of his car on a curve.

The car skidded into the path of the truck, driven by Lawrence Duff of Memphis.

Duff was not injured.

Idaho's Plum-Good-Eating Pie

Make it two-crust, deep-dish, or open-face but do make that Purple Plum Pie quick-like before the season of this luscious fruit has come and gone. Here for so short a time, September into early October, Idaho-grown purple plums (fresh Italian plums) are now in our markets at their tantalizing best—large, sweet, delicious.

Enjoy them now, eaten out of hand and in so many made dishes. And do stow away some in your freezer. You'll find these dusky-skinned beauties are the easiest of all fruits to freeze—the fruit itself or tucked away in a pie that's plum good eating!

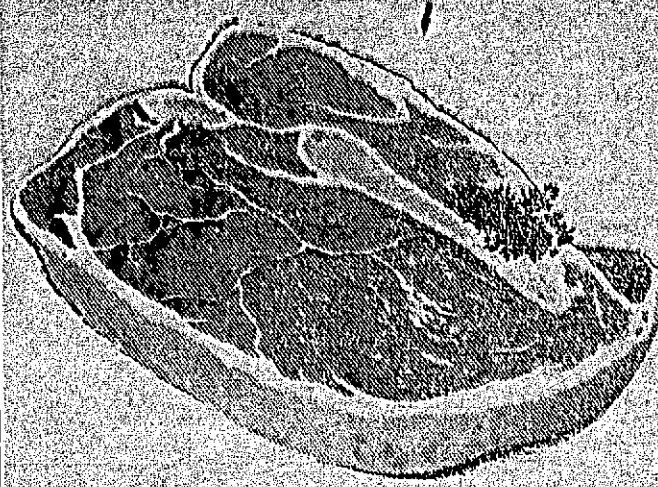

Idaho Purple Plum Pie

4 cups halved, seeded Idaho fresh purple plums (about) 1 cup granulated sugar 3 tablespoons flour 1/4 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg or mace 2 tablespoons butter 2 tablespoons lemon juice pastry for double-crust pie

Cut purple plum halves once crosswise. Fill pastry-lined 9-inch pie dish with purple plums. Mix together dry ingredients. Sprinkle over fruit. Add lemon juice. Dot with butter. Cover with top crust. Seal edges. Bake in 425 degree F. (hot) oven 35 to 45 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream, ice cream, hard sauce, or a zippy Cheddar cheese. Makes 6 to 8 servings. Spices and lemon may be omitted, with 2 tablespoons orange juice and 2 teaspoons grated orange rind used instead.

To freeze Purple Plum Pies: if freezing two-crust pies unbaked, do not cut slits in top crust. For lattice-top or other open design tops, first cover closely with foil or moisture-vapor-proof film, or freezer paper. Wrap entire pie in choice of above. Seal, label, date. Freeze rapidly. If baked, cool baked pies thoroughly, then wrap. Place level in freezer so juice won't leak out. Use within 4 months.

To use frozen Purple Plum Pies: if frozen unbaked, remove wrappings from frozen pie. Make slits in top crust. Bake at 425 degrees F. 40 to 60 minutes for Deep-Dish Pies and Two-Crust Pies. If frozen baked, remove wrappings from frozen pie. Heat in 375 degree F. (moderately-hot) oven 35 to 60 minutes for either type pie.

Lumumba Asks Congo Army to Unite

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba called on the divided Congolese army today to unite against the "imperialists" seeking to profit from the Congo's chaos.

Lumumba spoke over Leopoldville Radio for the first time since the powerful transmitter was taken over by U.N. troops Sept. 6. Restrictions on its use were relaxed Tuesday.

He addressed himself particularly to the unruly and undisciplined army which holds the balance in the bitter struggle for power in the Congo.

"Speaking in my capacity of minister of national defense, I give you the order to devote your self body and soul to the service of your people and your republic," Lumumba said.

"There is only one government, and that government is defending your interests and that of the Congolese people with all its energy."

The army itself appears to have been disintegrating along tribal lines.

No one was sure whether Lumumba or Kasavubu held the upper hand in the undisciplined army. It was clear both leaders could rely on a hard core of their tribal supporters, but the rest of the force wavered back and forth between the two political camps.

A senior Congo government official who claims to be non-partisan, said the soldiers have been gradually regrouping themselves into their tribal attachments in the 10 weeks since they mutinied against their Belgian officers following Congo independence.

Both Kasavubu and Lumumba have been trying to fire each other, and seize full control but neither has had solid enough support from the army to make the order stick.

The situation became more confused Tuesday night when Lumumba defied a new Kasavubu arrest warrant and strode into a joint session of Parliament which gave the premier a rousing cheer and voted him dictatorial powers.

The vote meant little, since a majority of the senators and deputies were absent but Lumumba jubilantly hailed it as a legal mandate empowering him to "arrest any person causing trouble."

"I did not ask for full powers," Lumumba asserted. "It is the parliament which has offered it because of the gravity of the situation."

Most opposition members refused to show up for the session held under the guns of helmeted Congo troops.

The vote came after a fiery speech by Lumumba who accused Kasavubu of fomenting an army uprising and credited himself with preventing a civil war when he was arrested Monday by Kasavubu supporters.

A few hours earlier troops loyal to Kasavubu occupied the radio station in Leopoldville and allowed Jean Bolikango an official of the Kasavubu government to broadcast a promise of jobs and to appeal to the population to rally behind the president.

CHAPTER XXXIV

Roughly, Robode Island Red shouldered through the balwings of the Red Wall saloon.

They were here, the whole stinking bunch of them, packed solid along the bar. He singled out Bud Lahr, the loudest mouth among them, and with a lift of anticipation started toward him across the floor.

Red grimaced. "So you think it's time for a change do you, Lahr? What's the matter?" he asked, enjoying the man's consternation. "Can't find your tongue? Here," he said, reaching out, "let me help you."

The cowboy attempted nervously to dodge as men on both sides fell wildly scrambling away, but the bar was too near and Lahr was jammed up against it, pinned there by Red's throttling grip.

Physically the kid was no match for the rancher; every shocked watcher in the place was aware of this. They knew also why Lahr, gray-faced and sweating, just hung there and took it, he was afraid to fight back, remembering the fellows Red had killed—afraid of doing anything which might tend to set off the kid's retributive temper.

Red, sensed this. He felt 10 feet tall, ready and willing to take them all on. "Open up," he growled, "I'm going to find that tongue." When Lahr opened his mouth the kid snorted. "Looks big enough to me!"

The kid didn't give the man time to answer; he'd got hold of a cruel notion. "Get a rope off one of those horses outside."

The barkeep, pasty cheeks averted, went out. No one else moved, with this ugliness lost in the room mocking all of them.

The barkeep came back with the rope but the kid waved him away. "Lahr's job," he grinned. "Toss him a knife to cut it."

When Lahr wouldn't take the rope the apron let go of it, the coils clattering on the floor. He dropped a pocketknife beside it. "Pick 'em up," Red said.

Lahr's bones creaked almost audibly as he bent but he wouldn't reach out. He wouldn't touch the rope or pick up the knife. He had both hands against the floor like crutches and hunkered there, glaring up at the kid with the fanatic look of a man who would sooner die than go farther. And he plainly expected Red to kill him.

This wasn't what Red had expected at all. It amounted to defiance and the kid, alone in this place with the bunch of them, suddenly got a different view of the whole proceedings. Somehow the shoe had got on the wrong foot and all the fun was gone out of this. He didn't like what he saw in all those watching eyes.

It was rebellion. He knew if he started a move toward his gun these two-bitlers would tear him to pieces—it was in their faces.

The hoofs of a horse walked across the stillness, traveling west in the slop outside, moving along the Red Wall's front. The kid struck his forehead with the flat of a hand, giving a good hard performance of a man, hardly recalling a forgotten importance. He spun in a lumbering run for the doors, shoving men out of his way. It was a distraction—what he needed, swerving their attention. That it might also presently among them, and with a lift of what their curiosity — him, guilt, ling the place on the heels of that horse, perhaps even to the point of sending them after him, was a chance he had no way of avoiding. Anything was better than what he'd seen shaping up.

Red got out, and good thing he'd come out when he had, because the rider passing through the lights of those windows was Lola Trone.

Something—perhaps the intensity of his glance or the sound dragged up off the boards by his ravel, twisted her shoulders around and she saw him.

"Hey — wait!" Red called but she put spurs to her horse, kicking him into a run.

Red looking after her suddenly grinned. She wouldn't get far on that hide! Cutting a glance over tethered broncs standing round him he jerked loose a set of reins and vaulting up, kicked out with his own spurs. If he contrived to do nothing else he simply had to keep her out of the lights, drive her into the dark where her sex, unseen, would not bring down on him the piled-up wrath of too many humiliations sprung from things Hobbles O had done.

Brett, riding through the day's lingering grayness, could not shake the feeling that had settled so heavily on him when he'd seen his sister die. It was one thing to break her hold on this country, something entirely different to see her killed and know himself responsible. Mora's bullet, sure—but meant for Brett. If he hadn't come back she would still be alive.

And this wasn't done yet. More blood would flow. More men would die. Blood and death—they were like a curse latched onto him. Like that bird hung round the Mariner's neck!

Brett, jerked up stiffly, saw the lights of town. He cautiously felt the bloody rags he'd tied around him; they were still getting the job done. His mind wasn't playing him too fast and loose or he'd be figuring like enough that he might still come through this bullet ground. He couldn't stop Tice alone—not even with a gun; he'd never catch Bill Tice alone. But there was other ways he could fix Bill's clock. Judge Temple, if he had to, could bring in deputy U.S. Marshal to clear armed interlopers of an heir's inheritance.

Speedy Breakfast For Teen-Agers

"I like something that I can eat in a hurry," a teen-ager commented and her mother agreed. The answer? An orange flavored cereal nog with honey bran muffins. It takes just 5 seconds to whirl the cereal nog and the muffins are ready to eat just as fast. Such a speedy breakfast provides one-fourth of the recommended allowance.

If your teen-age daughter refuses to eat breakfast because she "doesn't have time," encourage her to try a cereal nog with muffins. It's quick, refreshingly different, and makes a good contribution towards meeting her daily nutritional requirements. During September—the 10th Anniversary of Better Breakfast Month, encourage your teen-agers to start each day with an adequate morning meal. They will feel better, work better, and be less fatigued throughout the entire morning.

Orange Cereal Nog

1 cup cooled cooked rolled oats, quick or regular, or cooled cooked hot whole wheat cereal, instant or regular

1 cup chilled orange juice

Measure all ingredients into blender container. Blend about 5 seconds. If no blender is available beat until thoroughly mixed with hand or electric mixer. Chill if desired. Yield: 3 cups.
